

Ryan LaRose, Celink

Ryan LaRose is president and chief operating officer at Celink, the largest subservicer of reverse mortgages. He has over 20 years of mortgage servicing background including experience with Default Management and Investor Accounting. He is widely acknowledged throughout the reverse mortgage industry as a subject matter expert in servicing. Prior to joining Celink, LaRose worked in the banking and information technology industries. He joined Celink in 2005 to establish the Reverse Mortgage Servicing Department. In 2014, he received national recognition through selection as one of HousingWire Magazine's 'Rising Stars' – young professionals under the age of 40 poised for leadership in the mortgage industry. LaRose maintains excellent relationships with regulators, auditors, investors, lenders and clients alike, including Fannie Mae, HUD and Ginnie Mae. He is an active member of the National Reverse Mortgage Lender's Association (NRMLA) and currently co-chairs its Servicing Committee. He holds a BA in Business from Michigan State University.